Dedication Opportunities

June 6, 2019 | Normandy, France
Welcome to a unique opportunity to dedicate and sponsor Canada’s only museum in Europe honouring the Canadian role in the Second World War.

Over 15 years ago a group of veterans and volunteers, led by Canadian veteran Lt. Garth Webb and his partner Lise Cooper, began an effort to see a museum built on the D-Day landing beaches dedicated to telling the story of the Canadian role in the Second World War. After successfully raising over $15 million through private donations and support from the French and Canadian Governments, the Juno Beach Centre officially opened on June 6, 2003.

Located just steps away from the very beach that Garth and his Canadian comrades landed on in 1944, the Juno Beach Centre stands as a tribute to the legacy of the Canadians who served in the Second World War, as well as a place where citizens of the rest of the world can come to learn about Canadian culture and values. The Juno Beach Centre has a joint mission of education and commemoration, and remains privately operated and funded by the Juno Beach Centre Association, a registered Canadian charity.

On June 6, 2019, Canada and the rest of the world will commemorate the 75th anniversary of the D-Day landings and the Normandy Campaign. On this occasion, the Juno Beach Centre will be dedicated. With very few Canadian D-Day veterans still alive, this will be the last significant anniversary to personally thank and honour the brave men who served with the Canadian forces at great personal cost. This will be one of the last chances to walk with veterans along the shores they stormed 75 years ago. The dedication of Canada’s only museum and education centre on the D-Day landing beaches is a rare opportunity to show pride in Canadian veterans and history, while ensuring the future of the Juno Beach Centre as a focal point to educate generations to come.
The Juno Beach Centre is launching a $5 million campaign to secure the future of the museum in France and enable programming in Canada. Funds raised will contribute to a Youth Education Scholarship Endowment Fund, Major Exhibitions and Atlantic Wall Fortifications, and an Endowment and Technology Fund, among other initiatives.

The Juno Beach Centre

The Juno Beach Centre was designed by Canadian Architect Brian Chamberlain and intended to establish a distinctly Canadian presence on the Normandy coast.

It features a pentagonal shape, surrounded by a series of multi-level, interlocking sections with sloping walls. The resulting building line reflects the pentagon shape of the Order of Canada and the outline of the maple leaf, our national symbol.
Canada entered the Second World War on September 10, 1939. 1.5 million Canadians served in the Second World War, in the navy, army, and air force, in Europe and at home. 45,000 Canadians died during the war; 5,500 of those lost their lives during the Normandy Campaign, 359 just on D-Day.

Canadians contributed significantly to home defence, the production of war materials, the training of aircrews, the protection of shipping convoys across the Atlantic, the United Kingdom’s defence, the bomber war over Europe, and land, air, and sea action in Asia, the Mediterranean region, Northwest Europe, and Germany.

After 5 years of brutal war, France’s northern Normandy coast would be the gateway for the Allies to liberate Europe from the Nazis. On June 6, 1944, nearly 150,000 soldiers, sailors, and airmen from more than a dozen countries, including 14,000 Canadians, crossed the English Channel in the largest combined military operation in history. Reinforced by naval bombardment, paratroopers, and air support, the Canadian objective was to break through, take and hold an 8KM stretch of coast code-named Juno and defended by Hitler’s infamous Atlantic Wall. Juno Beach lay in between the British objectives Sword and Gold Beach; the 2 American beaches, Omaha and Utah, lay to the west. At the end of that first hard day of fighting, the Canadians had secured their beach and came closer to achieving their objectives than any other force, but at a heavy cost. Canadian casualties totalled 1074, including 359 dead. In the campaign to liberate Normandy that followed, lasting until the end of August 1944, 5,500 Canadians lost their lives.
Youth Education Scholarship Endowment Fund

TARGET: $2,000,000

The education of future generations is a core principle of the Juno Beach Centre in both France and Canada. To this end, a number of programs focus entirely on providing educational opportunities, including our Guide Program, a Professional Development Institute for Teachers, online resources and exhibits for the public, a travelling display in Canada, and a brand-new Student Pilgrimage program in 2019.

Summer Institute and Battlefield Tour for Educators | DEDICATION: $100,000 ANNUALLY

This annual professional development program for Canadian history educators has hosted over 350 educators from across Canada since its inception in 2004. The 11-day tour includes stops at major First and Second World War sites, including Ypres, Beaumont-Hamel, Vimy Ridge, Dieppe, Falaise, and of course the Normandy landing beaches. Participants experience the history they teach while sharing ideas and learning new teaching methods to bring back to their classrooms.

Student Pilgrimage | DEDICATION: $150,000 ANNUALLY

The Juno Beach Centre is inaugurating a brand-new program for 25 students each year. These students will earn the opportunity to travel the battlefields of Europe by completing a story telling project that honours a history significant to them. This unique program will allow students to interact directly with French citizens liberated by Canadians, and to experience what it truly means to walk in the footsteps of history.

An annual dedication will have the opportunity to have their name/logo on branded merchandise. A minimum endowment of $25,000 will receive the following benefits:

- Name/Logo prominently featured on the Juno75 Benefactor’s Wall
- Name/Logo prominently featured on the JBC Website
- VIP Tickets to the JBC Dedication Dinner in Normandy in 2019
- Recognition in the visitor’s brochure
- Name/Logo on relevant JBC promotional materials
Bathed in natural light, this room looks out towards the sea, providing refreshing contrast to the darkness of previous rooms and their tales of woe and sacrifice during the war years. Here, visitors are invited to reflect on all they’ve seen and to discover Canadian culture and values.

The Juno Beach Centre has plans to entirely redesign the exhibition space in order to provide a more modern perspective on Canada and a better place for visitor reflection. Main themes of the new exhibition will include Canada’s place and contributions in the world, shared values and common heritage between Canada and the rest of the world, and remembering and passing the torch.
Endowment and Technology Fund
TARGET: $1,000,000

One of the best ways you can support and honour the legacy of D-Day is to ensure that the Juno Beach Centre can be maintained for generations to come.

The Juno Beach Centre Endowment and Technology Fund ensures the necessary flow of capital for the continuing operation of an institution that teaches the world about Canada’s contribution to democracy and freedom.

Most significantly, it will allow for the Juno Beach Centre to maintain modern exhibits and technology throughout the museum. Much of the technology throughout the Juno Beach Centre has not been updated in over a decade; the education programs, once state-of-the-art, are not as accessible as they once were. By keeping the research and interactives used up-to-date, the visitor experience on the Juno Beach Centre will maintain its exemplary standards.

Endowment naming opportunities are available at $250,000. A minimum endowment of $25,000 will receive the following benefits:

- Name/Logo prominently featured on the Juno75 Benefactor’s Wall
- Name/Logo prominently featured on the JBC Website
- VIP Tickets to the JBC Dedication Dinner in Normandy in 2019
- Recognition in the visitor’s brochure
- Name/Logo on relevant JBC promotional materials
The D-Day landings were the beginning of the end of the Second World War. The success of the Allied invasion of France paved the way for the further liberation of occupied Europe, including the many concentration camps spread across German occupied territory. Canadians and their allies pushed forward through Europe liberating the many victims of the Holocaust as they marched towards the end of the war.

The Holocaust story is a major part of the Second World War story. On the 75th anniversary of the D-Day Landings and the Normandy campaign, and as we approach the 75th anniversary of the end of the war in 2020, the Juno Beach Centre will honour the victims of the Holocaust and the Allied forces which helped to liberate them.

A space is being created within the Juno Beach Centre’s permanent exhibits to provide a more complete story of the Holocaust in tribute to the victims as well as the Allied forces which helped to liberate them.
Atlantic Wall Fortifications
EXCLUSIVE DEDICATION: $500,000

The Atlantic Wall was the German solution for fortifying the French coast against an invasion they deemed imminent. In the years leading up to 1945, a comprehensive series of bunkers, gun emplacements, and tunnels were constructed along over 2650KM of coastline. In 2014, the Juno Beach Centre began excavating, reinforcing, and opening portions of this bunker system for public tours.

Increased research, interpretation, and maintenance will enhance the visitor experience and provide further insight into not only what a German soldier’s life was like in the months leading up to D-Day, but also the huge scope of defenses that Canadians faced as they stormed the beaches on June 6, 1944.

Remembering the Veterans’ Stories

EXCLUSIVE DEDICATION: $500,000

Throughout its existence, the Juno Beach Centre has been the depository for hundreds of stories of veterans, their families, and their impact on the world. As the numbers of Canadian veterans diminishes every day, the time to share these stories is now. In recognition of the 75th Anniversary of D-Day and the Normandy Campaign, the Juno Beach Centre will launch a special project showcasing veteran stories.

Inspired by Room E: Some Came Back, Others Did Not, this multimedia project would provide an accessible home for the stories of veterans’ lives, in service and afterwards. Using the stories already available to the Juno Beach Centre as a foundation, a digital platform would be created and dedicated to making these stories available to the public.

The Juno Beach Centre will provide a platform for visitors to leave their story. This experience can continue beyond the visit through social media, and a feature on the Juno Beach Centre website will allow members of the public around the world to engage in the remembrance of these stories and commemoration of these significant Canadian legacies.
