TEMPORARY EXHIBITION COMING MARCH 12, 2022

In partnership with the War Heritage Institute in Brussels, Belgium, the Juno Beach Centre will present From Dieppe to Juno a temporary two-year exhibition commemorating the 80th anniversary of the Dieppe Raid.

AUGUST 19, 1942

In nine hours, a force of nearly 5,000 Canadians suffered over 800 killed, with two-thirds of the force dead, wounded, or captured

THE DIEPPE RAID

Canada’s darkest day of the Second World War is shrouded in controversy, mystery, and tragedy

Discover the disaster at Dieppe through the experiences of Canadian and allied soldiers, sailors and airmen, French civilians, German soldiers, war correspondents and loved ones back in Canada.

Explore our shifting understanding of the raid, its links to Juno Beach on D-Day, and the liberation of Dieppe in September 1944.

This exhibition is being produced according to eco-responsible principles, including the recycling and reuse of materials from previous exhibitions. It is also the result of a reflection on sustainable graphics. The exhibition and associated materials have been designed to adhere to the French Imprim’Vert (green printing) criteria and will use plant-based ink wherever possible.
EDUCATIONAL ACTIVITIES

A unique and not to be missed youth circuit with an educational activity led by a Canadian guide with the “Explore Juno as a class” digital app on tactile tablets (two versions: primary and secondary school groups).

In the permanent exhibit, new, interactive modules and the “Explore Juno as a Class” digital app will enable primary and secondary school groups and their teachers to discover the museum with a Canadian guide. The class is divided into 6 teams of 5 students, each team with their own tablet. Across the different exhibit rooms, students are invited to learn about the role that may have been theirs during the Second World War, and to reflect on universal historical concepts tied to themes of immigration, total war or political dictators.

At the end of the exhibit, with their guide/mediator, students will tally the “poppy points” earned throughout the activity on a common screen and share what they have learned with the other teams, before concluding with a discussion about current topics related to Canada and the world today.

“With Explore Juno, I discovered what it was like for youth my age during the war. It made me think.”
Thomas, 11 years old.

“A passionate visit led by a dynamic and engaging team. The children were thrilled and left with a better understanding of the importance of peace among different people.”
F. Culleron, teacher Graye-sur-Mer.
